A curious letter from a friend who has been in France for some time. He writes:

"Arrived in Paris, 23rd of June. Met with many interesting people, but was fortunate enough not to get involved in any serious trouble."

He goes on to describe the beauty of the city and its cultural significance.

"Can you imagine living in such a great city and being genuinely appreciated?"

He signs off,

M. de l'Esbus